

Rachel Holler, Ed.D.

Rachel Holler is currently a Program Director in the Quakertown Community School District, a position she has held since July of 2011. Rachel's responsibilities include K-12 curriculum oversight for Math, Science, and the Practical Arts. Rachel also supervises the High School Principal and has direct responsibilities for the Quakertown Community High School. Prior to coming to Quakertown, Rachel was a principal in the Norristown Area School District for 7 years. Rachel's teaching background is in secondary mathematics. Rachel attended Lehigh University to earn her Doctor of Education degree in September 2006, also doing adjunct teaching work at Lehigh for over 5 years. Rachel is married to Adam and has two young children (2 ½ and 10 months) at home.