

Tracy L. Ficca, M.Ed.

Tracy Ficca has worked as an educational consultant with the Pennsylvania Training and Technical Assistance Network for 14 years and is currently working in the King of Prussia office. She has provided technical assistance across many initiatives set forth by the Bureau of Special Education. She is currently supporting special education leadership, mathematics, Project MAX, PVAAS, Response to Instruction and Intervention and assisting with the development of the PDE conference.

Tracy holds a master of education degree in Curriculum Developmental Strategies and Instructional Design from Wilkes University, as well as a Bachelor of Science degree in Elementary and Special Education from Edinboro University of Pennsylvania. She also holds a certification as a Reading Specialist and a Principal's certification earned through Cabrini College. She is a LETRS trainer and has also completed coursework for Pennsylvania's BCBA certification. Prior to working as an educational consultant, Tracy's professional experience was in both regular and special education for ten years, where she also functioned as assistant principal for three years.

Tracy resides in Harrisburg where she lives with her husband Dan and children Daniel and Magee.