

Cindy Allen

Dr. Cindy Allen is a professor at Lock Haven University in the Department of Health Science. An alum of Lock Haven University, she has been teaching at the university for the past 20 years. During that time in addition to teaching, she has served as the Director of Student Teaching and is presently serving the university as the team leader of the NCATE/CAEP accreditation process. Prior to higher education, she was a public school teacher in Keystone Central School District for 13 years as well as serving as the district's K-12 Curriculum Director. She received a Masters of Education in Curriculum and Instruction, a Supervisory Certificate, and a PhD from the Pennsylvania State University. Additionally, she recently received a Superintendent's Letter of Eligibility from California State University of PA. She also served as president of the state association of the Pennsylvania State Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance. Personally, she is married to Craig, Director of Radiology at Lock Haven Hospital. They are parents of four children, seven beautiful grandchildren, and three rambunctious Greater Swiss Mountain dogs.