

Stephanie Siegel-Mock

Stephanie Siegel-Mock is the Director of Public Policy and Outreach for the Pennsylvania Association for the Education of Young Children (PennAEYC). She began her career and discovered her interest in early childhood education as a substitute teacher and paraeducator for Lancaster-Lebanon Intermediate Unit 13 and several school districts in Lebanon County. As a substitute teacher and paraeducator, she worked in special and regular education classrooms and with students from pre-kindergarten through high school. She then worked for Lebanon County Head Start as a Teacher's Assistant and as an Early Head Start Home Visitor. Prior to joining PennAEYC, Stephanie worked for the Pennsylvania Head Start Association as its Outreach Coordinator for the Pre-K for PA Campaign.

Before becoming involved with early childhood education, Stephanie worked as an attorney in New York City for 10 years. She specialized in employee benefits and worked for two multi-national law firms, Paul Hastings and Weil, Gotshal & Manges. She also was the Assistant General Counsel for the 1199SEIU Healthcare Employees Benefit & Pension Funds.

Stephanie has a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology from Cornell University and a law degree from New York University School of Law. She was born in New York and lived there her entire life before moving to Pennsylvania in 2009.
